REPUBLICAN LEAGUE.

Opening of the National Convention at Cleveland.

LAUNCHING PRESIDENTIAL BOOMS.

Many Politicians Present Who Have Never Before Attended League Conventions. The Silver Advocates Seem to be Meeting with Little Encouragement.

CLEVELAND, June 19.—The business portion of the city is profusely decorated with flags and bunting in honor of the National League of Republican clubs, which met in annual convention this forenoon. Music Hall, where the convention is held, is most artistically decorated. The immense arcade building, in which the banquet will take place tomorrow evening, has been transformed into a veritable bower of beauty. The decorations in this building have cost many thousands of dollars, and it is stated are the finest ever produced at any previous league convention.

Among the visiting statesmen who attracted most attention yesterday were Governor Brown of Rhode Island, Governor Nelson and ex-Governor Merriam of Michigan, ex-Governor Moody of Oregon, and the officers of the state leagues, but the influx of delegates last night was so large that favorites are less conspicuous. Senator Carter and Senator Dubois, however, were more eagerly sought after last night than ever, as they are recognized as the leaders of the silver movement, and all western delegates want to meet them.

The silver enthusiasts are greatly disappointed over the attitude of the mountaineers and the colored brethren from the south. The southern delegates say the Democrats of the southern states are dividing on the silver question, and they want nothing done at this convention on that question, and that if the issue is forced they will vote with the eastern and other delegates against free silver, so as to have an issue against the southern Democrats that will break the old lines of race prejudice. The southern delegates are for a policy of expediency, and say the old Whig element of the south is for "sound money" as well as for protection, and that the solid south can be broken by the Republicans declaring plainly in favor of both these principles.

The American Protective league has elaborate headquarters here this week, in charge of General Secretary Wilbur F. Wakeman, of New York, and several state secretaries. This organization has over 1,000 auxiliary leagues, 3,000 of the correspondents and over 5,000 newspapers using its bureau matter. It is evidently forming an alliance here with the anti-silverites of the south, whatever may be its policy on a further combine for 1896. The Pennsylvania delegates are co-operating closely with the Tariff league and working with the southern delegates for protection and 'sound money" without regard to the contest for president for the league. The southern states are more largely represented than in former years. There is a movement to avoid any decisive action whatever now on the tariff, silver or other disputed questions, and to hold the anual meeting next year after the Republican national convention, so as to avoid the embarrassment of anticipated action on issues that are contested.

There are here now leading Republicans who have never attended league meetings before, and who are here in the interest of McKinley, Reed, Allison and others for president. It is realized that the presidential booms will be more numerous and more luxuriant than ever next year, and for that reason, also, the meeting of 1896 should be held after the Republican national convention. D. D. Woodmansee, president of the Ohio league, withdrew as a candidate for national president, because of McKinley's candidacy for president, and now the Ohio delegation does not know what to do. The eastern men insist upon them supporting General McAlpin and the western delegatss threaten to remember such action against McKinley. Mark A. Hanna, Congressman Burton and others are trying to see what is the best thing to do for McKinley.

President Tracy arrived in his private car from Chicago last night and met Secretary Humphrey and the executive committee. Members of the committee concede that the fight for president now is the field against General McAlpin, of New York, with the chances in favor of McAlpin. H. Clay Evans is telling his friends that he cannot allow the use of his name, and yet the Tennessee delegation promises to vote for him.

The free silver men held a conference last night and decided to make an aggressive fight, notwithstanding the disaffection of southern delegates on whom they had depended. The silver men say they will run Colonel Isaac Trumbol, of Salt Lake City, for president of the league, and show their strength on a ballot. Senators Carter and Dubois are working hard for him. The latter will precipitate the silver fight by offering a 16 to 1 resolution.

Another Defaulting Treasurer.

OMAHA, Neb., June 19.—City Treasurer Henry Bolth is a defaulter, and the extent of his shortage cannot be learned until the experts have made their report, but the discrepancy probably reaches far into the thousands. The Bee made the facts of the embezzlement public yesterday, and Bolth at once disappeared, leaving a note to his family saying that the hour had come for him to die, since he had been disgraced. Last night he was located in a suburban road house. When the officers appeared he began to draw his revolvers, with which he declared he intended to end his life. He surrendered. It is claimed that he was intoxicated for days at a time and neglected the business of his office for bucket shop speculation.

THE COLIMA DISASTER.

Captain Taylor Mainly Responsible for the Great Loss of Life.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 19.—An evening paper says: When the government's investigations shall have been held there will be no lack of testimony to show the culpability of the Pacific Mail company in the Colima wreck. Besides the testimony given before the hull and boiler inspectors A. D. McClelland has received a letter from his brother, who has a coast ranch in Mexico, near the scene of the wreck. Ten of the wrecked passengers are being cared for by him, and their story of the wreck corroborates all that has been said against the management of the ship.

McClelland writes that from the story told by the survivors at his place the wreck was all due to Captain Taylor. "Certain it is," adds the writer, "that he made no attempt whatever to save the passengers. The rescued passengers tell me that the coverings were not even taken off the boats, and further, that the passengers were not notified of the danger until five minutes before the Colima went down. The freight ports could not be closed on account of the immense cargo of lumber and other merchandise. The water rushed through these port holes, and in a few minutes put out the fires in the engine room.

"Then the Colima was practically at the mercy of the waves. I learn that a feeble attempt was made to hoist a sail, though there was such confusion that it was practically useless to attempt to do anything. The passengers endeavored to take down the life preservers, but the mates forced them to put them back. One of the men picked up a preserver, and he was peremptorily ordered to put it back. All the women and children were on deck just before the Colima went down, though many were washed off by the rushing waters, or before the end came."

The investigation will be brought to a close this evening.

Has Gladstone Deserted Rosebery?

LONDON, June 19.—The Times announces this morning that Mr. Gladstone has withdrawn from his pairing agreement with Right Hon. Charles Villiers, member of parliament, because he wishes to be regarded as having an open mind of the Welsh church disestablishment bill. In an editorial commenting on the above The Times says: "Blow upon blow has fallen on the government recently, but none is comparable to this, which means the withdrawal of Mr. Gladstone's moral support from Lord Rosebery's administration. Its effect will be widespread. It is hardly possible to escape the conclusion that he extends his disapproval to their general policy. In any case his act will complete the disintegration of the government, and is a portend of dissolution that cannot be misconstrued."

Legal Defeat for Labor Unions.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 19.—In the supreme court Justice Sherwood filed an opinion, declaring unconstitutional the law forbidding the discharge by corporations of employes who refuse to sever their connection with labor organizations. This law was enacted two years ago, and provides penalties ranging from a fine of $50 to $1,000 and six months' imprisonment. The court hold that this law is class legislation. A non-union man could be discharged without notice, and the law would not intervene, while a union man could not be discharged if his discharge was based upon his connection with a union.

Reappointed by Governor Werts.

TRENTON, June 19.—Governor Werts has reappointed ad interim all the nominees whose names were sent by him to the senate during the recent session of the legislature and whom the senate refused to confirm, reserving only for further consideration the nominations of F. A. Canfield for state senator, and Chandler W. Riker for circuit court judge. The governor disapproved the prerogative court fee and the New Brunswick mayoralty bill, declaring both unconstitutional.

The President at His Summer Home.

BUZZARD'S BAY, Mass., June 19.—Mr. C. E. Benedict's yacht Oneida, with the president on board, reached here yesterday. Those who accompanied the president were Private Secretary Thurber, Dr. Bryant and Mr. Benedict. A stop was made near Marion Harbor, where Mr. Thurber was put ashore to join his family, who had already arrived here. Then the Oneida proceeded to her favorite anchorage grounds off Monument Neck.

Will Advise Gomez to Retreat.

MADRID, June 19.—A dispatch to the Imparcial from Havana says that the autonomists and several leaders of the last revolution have had a conference at Puerto Principe. After they had discussed the situation, it is added, they decided that the "separatists" were not in a position to continue the struggle and a committee was appointed to go to Santiago de Cuba and advise Maximo Gomez to abandon the war.

Terrible Domestic Crime in North Carolina.

RALEIGH, June 19.—Near Mount Gilead, Montgomery county, two brothers, Andrew and Mann Rhodes, colored, quarreled about some family matters. Sarah Rhodes, the mother, seized Andrew and held him, while Mann ripped him open with a knife, killing him. Sarah and Mann are both in jail. There is talk among the negroes of lynching both the mother and son.

Still Another Stay for Lambert.

TRENTON, June 19.—Lawyer Semple applied to Judge Green, of the United States court, yesterday afternoon for a writ of habeas corpus for Lambert, the Camden murderer, on technical legal grounds, and when it was denied he took an appeal to the United States supreme court, which acts as a stay of execution.

A War Veteran on Trial for Murder.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 19.—Captain James Williams, aged 64 years, a veteran of the late war, was placed on trial in the criminal court yesterday for the murder of William Chapman, a farmer, at Shickshinny last April. The entire day was consumed in the selection of a jury.

DEPEW AT NASHVILLE.

The Noted Orator Speaks on Patriotism and Education.

THE DUTIES OF THE CITIZEN.

He Who Advocates Good Roads Does More Good Than He Who Spouts Finance—A Poor Man Cannot Afford to Enter Politics—Party Loyalty Secondary.

NASHVILLE, June 19.—The event of the Vanderbilt commencement was the address of Dr. Chauncey M. Depew at the Tabernacle last night, delivered before an immense audience. The address was to have been delivered at the Vendome theater, the largest in the city, but its capacity was not equal to the demand for seats, and the Tabernacle was selected. On the platform was assembled the university faculty and prominent citizens, and the audience was a magnificent one. Upon being introduced, Dr. Depew was received with rounds of applause, and during his address was freely and spontaneously greeted with applause. Mr Depew's subject was "Patriotism and Education," and in the course of his lengthy and brilliant oration he said:

"Ladies and Gentlemen: It has long been a question whether perfect happiness is possible in this world. Human fallibility causes sudden jars on the most joyous occasions. The nearest approach to the complete realization of actual and ideal pleasure comes with commencement day for the college man. He passes the fleeting hours in a flood of delightful recollections or glorious anticipations.

"We live not for the past, but for the present and future; that every period has its problems to be solved, its dangers to be met and its opportunities. What seem to us the commonplaces of the day will add to or diminish the happiness of those who shall come after us. Anarchy, socialism, taxation, currency and the relations of labor and capital are questions as difficult, requiring as much judicious and patriotic consideration and demanding as much of the time and attention of the colleges and the college men of the country as any which have agitated the nation since the formation of the government. It is not for all of us to be legislators, or governors, or cabinet ministers, or presidents, but it is for all of us in the sphere in which we move to take that interest in public affairs which voices the opinion that guides legislatures, congresses and presidents.

"A man can serve his country more effectively, and with greater practical benefit, in preaching the doctrine and promoting the building of good roads than in spending his time in spouting currency fallacies. Public service is not alone in the holding of office. In the hot competitions of our American life, in the obligations which a man owes to those about him and dependent upon him, in the duties and happiness which come from marriage and domesticity, no man, until he is assured in some way of independence from the emoluments of office, can afford to enter public life. The most lamentable wrecks which I have seen in the thirty odd years since I was graduated have been the men who have abandoned everything for the public service, only to be thrown out by the changes of politics and to find that their places in the professional and business world had been occupied by younger men, leaving them helpless and stranded.

"But every town caucus, every village primary, every ward or county convention is the opportunity and the duty of the educated man. He must belong to one or the other of the great parties, because in representative government it is only by such organizations that wise politics can eventuate in wise measures. We hear much—too much—of rings and bosses. They are the natural result of neglect of the primaries by the citizens. The boss and the ring on one side, in secret partnership with the ring and the boss on the other, present tickets made up of thieves or tools and then shout for us to vote for the one or the other in the name of protection or free trade, in the name of monometalism or free comage of silver, according to our party affiliations. If the educated men of the country who are ministers, lawyers, doctors, journalists, business men or farmers would perform their duties in the primary school of the caucus we never would experience that despotism of a machine which blights ambition, destroys honest effort for good government, and plunders impartially partisans and antagonists.

"If we have neglected our duty to the community, to the state and to the nation by neglecting the beginnings of government, we are not without a remedy. Then is the time for those, and they exist in every community, who have been trained in the schools to formulate their ideas and to express them upon the platform, or through the press or by the pamphlet, to say to the people 'protection and free trade can wait;' they have waited and wavered for a century. All other questions can wait as they have waited and wavered for a generation.

"Thieves are in possession of the state house, robbers intrenched in the city hall. Unite, discard party, disregard cries, shibboleths and phrases, and so rescue the state and the city. The efficacy of this method, though a late one, and an unnecessary one if the educated brains of the country attended to their duties, has been seen within a year under the inspiration of seventy independent citizens of New York, a hundred independent citizens in Brooklyn, the triumph of civil service in Chicago by the popular vote, and other equally significant manifestations of the resistless power of a combination of independent voters."

Says Women Did the Killing.

DANVILLE, Va., June 19.—Solomon Marable, the negro who brutally murdered Mrs Pollard, was caught late yesterday afternoon near Five Forks, Va. Marable says he and a woman watched while two women did the killing and robbery. They then divided the money. Six negro women suspected of complicity in the Pollard murder have also been arrested. Two admit knowing something about the crime, but refuse to talk more than to admit that a man was concerned in it. The sheriff has called for a force to prevent the prisoners from being lynched.

Killed Her Three Children and Herself.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., June 19.—Mrs. Sanford Gillis, wife of a well known farmer near Shellsburg, poisoned herself and three of her six children, and all four died. Mrs. Gillis started out of the house with a 4-year-old baby in her arms after administering the poison to the three children and herself. A few rods from the door she fell to the ground, where both were found dead. Her husband was feeding stock at the time. Mrs Gillis had just returned from Indiana, where she had been treated for mental derangement.

Resuming Work at Elkhorn.

ELKHORN, Va., June 19.—There was an attempt on Monday to resume work among the collieries in the Flat Top coal field, exclusive of those who are using electrical machinery. Four of them have made a start. The Algoma, Elk Ridge, Lynchburg and Powhattan companies are working about twenty men per colliery. The strikers are soliciting work from these collieries. The resumption of work throughout the entire field is expected in about two weeks.

Burned in Their Bed.

NEW YORK, June 19.—The children of Herman Eidelman were burned yesterday. One of them, Isaac, 3 years old, is dead, and Jacob, 6 years old, is not expected to recover. The children were asleep and the mother went out to do some marketing, leaving her 9-year-old son Abraham to take care of the children. In some manner the boy set fire to the bedclothes. He then ran out of the house, and before assistance arrived his two little brothers were fatally burned.

Destructive Fires in Indiana.

WATERLOO, Ind., June 19.—News has reached here that Angola, fourteen miles from here, is threatened with a destructive fire. The Linder & Ramsey cooperage factory has already burned, and the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern property is threatened. Bluff Creek, a small country town near Franklin, has been almost entirely destroyed by fire. Fourteen buildings, including three general stores, with their contents, were consumed.

Murdered for a Chicken.

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., June 19.—W. H. Cardwell shot and instantly killed Ditto Jones at Aberdeen, one mile from Morgantown, in cold blood. The trouble came up over a chicken that was recently killed by one of them, and on meeting at Aberdeen they began quarrelling, and after a few words had been exchanged Cardwell drew his pistol and fired two shots into Jones' body, killing him instantly. Cardwell at once left for parts unknown.

Governor Hastings' Appointments.

HARRISBURG, June 19.—These appointments were announced last night by Governor Hastings: Inspectors of Western penitentiary for two years, each, James S. McKean, Pittsburg, and David B. Oliver, Allegheny; commission to examine applicants for inspector of steam engines and boilers in Allegheny county, Samuel B. Sheams, David A. Shaver, James Lappan, Alexander W. Foster and Oliver A. Waggoner, Pittsburg.

English Praise for the Cornell Crew.

LONDON, June 19.—Truth, commenting upon the Cornell-Henley crew, says: "Although not big men they are strong and wiry, and they have been coached to almost machine like perfection, and a similarity of style that speaks volumes for their coaching. Of course it would be a nasty blow to English rowing if the Cornellers won the grand race, but, at the same time, it could not be won by better sportsmen."

Altgeld Calls a Special Legislative Session.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., June 19.—Governor Altgeld issues a call for a special session of the general assembly. The session will meet next Tuesday. In his message the governor says the special session will be asked to pass revenue laws to relieve the deficiency in the state treasury and pass laws regarding sleeping car charges and regarding the justice courts of Chicago.

TAYLOR'S SURRENDER.

South Dakota's Defaulting Treasurer Again in Pierre.

HOW HE FOOLED THE DETECTIVES.

He Declares He Returned Without Solicitation—Has Made Good the Amount of His Stealings, and Is Ready to Take the Sentence Which His Acts Warrant.

PIERRE, S. D., June 19.—Defaulter W. W. Taylor reached here yesterday. He expected that a special term of the circuit court would be in session and that he would at once be sentenced, but Judge Gaffey's absence prevented. The judge will probably call a special session on Saturday, however, for the purpose. Taylor makes a statement in regard to his flight, in which he says:

"I did not see a detective during the entire time, and none saw me. They claim they did not prosecute a vigorous search, and while I traveled slowly they were more dilatory. They did not trace me at all beyond Jamaica, but, I understand, are still in the Barbadoes following a false clew which I laid for them. I did not go to South America and the reports of detectives about my wanderings after leaving Jamaica are mere moonshine, as well as much of what they told earlier.

"All reports about pleadings of my family and my friends are untrue. No one asked me to surrender. The state had no idea where I was, and could not have caught me in years. In fact, I understand they had practically given up the search; but I knew that my absence was causing my family and friends very great sorrow, and I did not want to give up my name and my home for all time. I therefore decided upon the step I have taken.

"I know I have committed a crime in the eyes of the law, and am ready to take the penalty. My conscience is clear of any intent to do wrong, but I could not defraud bondsmen, who are my friends. I have come here voluntarily, have turned over to the state enough property to wipe out the deficit, and am now ready to take the sentence which my acts have warranted."

RUSSELL SAGE DEFEATED.

The Jury Gives Laidlaw a Verdict for Forty Thousand Dollars.

NEW YORK, June 19.—The fourth trial of the suit of William R. Laidlaw against Russell Sage for $50,000 ended yesterday, when the jury brought in a verdict in the plaintiff's favor for $40,000. The suit was for damages alleged to have been sustained by Laidlaw on account of Sage using him as a shield against Dynamiter Norcross' bomb.

When court opened Colonel E. C. James summed up the defense, telling the jury that they should decide the case on the evidence.

Then Joseph H. Choate begun for the plaintiff. He had a Bible in his hand, and he began his address by reading from it the parable of Dives and Lazarus.

RUSSELL SAGE.

Continuing, Mr. Choate said Dives, in the Bible, suffered in hell for the sores of Lazarus, though he had nothing to do with them or their origin.

"What does this man care for a jury?" sarcastically said Mr. Choate. "Who was it Sage called scriff when he was on the stand? Why, gentlemen, it was one of the jury. What respect has he for the decision of a jury when he said on the stand he would carry the case to the United States supreme court.

"This poor mangled being, Laidlaw, for the past four years has been carrying on a fight against this financial monster, Sage. If I had known the attitude Sage would have taken in this case I would have made the claim for $100,000 instead of $50,000."

The case was given to the jury at 3.07, and at 4:12 they returned with a verdict of $40,000 for the plaintiff. A stay was granted until September.

The Perils of Umpiring.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 19.—During the third inning of the game here between Montgomery and New Orleans Umpire Nicholson called safe a runner because Left Fielder Neal fell after catching the fly which the runner had hit. Immediately the crowd of 500 people rushed upon the field and assaulted the umpire, who was severely injured before the police came to his assistance.

Presbyterians Uphold Manitoba.

LONDON, Ont., June 19.—The Manitoba school question was before the Presbyterian General Assembly and the Anglican synod of Huron at their sessions here yesterday. Strong resolutions were introduced in both bodies demanding that the government make no remedial order nor interfere with the government of Manitoba.

Impaled on a Pitchfork.

BRIDGETON, N. J., June 19.—Samuel Fisher, a young well-to-do farmer, residing near here, fell from a hay mow and was instantly killed by a pitchfork he carried running in his neck at the base of the brain. Fisher was 21 years old, and leaves four weeks bride.

Narcoti-Cure

Cures the Tobacco Habit in 4 to 10 Days or Money Refunded.

Use All the Tobacco You Want Till Your "Craving" is Gone.

NARCOTI CURE is the only remedy in the world that acts directly on the nerves and drives the nicotine from the system in from four to ten days. It leaves the patient in better health than before taking, and is warranted free from any injurious ingredients.

NARCOTI-CURE is popular because it allows the patient to use all the tobacco he wants while under treatment, or until the "craving" and "hankering" are gone. It is then no sacrifice to throw away tobacco forever.

NARCOTI-CURE is sold at the uniform price of $5 a bottle, and one bottle cures.

Money refunded if a cure is not effected when taken according to directions.

THE NARCOTI CHEMICAL CO.,
Springfield, Mass.

Gentlemen:—Replying to yours of the 1st, would say that I have used tobacco for 46 years, and of late have consumed a 10-cent plug a day, besides smoking considerably. I commenced to use tobacco when I was only 11 years old, and have never been able to give up the habit until I took NARCOTI CURE, although I have tried other so-called remedies without effect. After using your remedy four days, all "hankering" for chewing disappeared, and in four days more smoking became unpleasant. I have no further desire for the weed, and experienced no bad effects whatever. I am gaining in flesh, and feel better than I have for a long time. To all who wish to be free from the tobacco habit I would say, use NARCOTI CURE.

Yours truly, W. N. WHITE.

If your druggist is unable to give you full particulars about Narcoti-Cure, send to us for a Book of Particulars free, or send $5.00 for a bottle by mail.

SELLS BROTHERS' SHOW.

Wait for the Largest Tented Exhibition on Earth.

Sells Bros. Grand Titanic Tented Colossus, bigger, greater, better, richer, finer and more sumptuous in every detail than any other aggregation in America. Other shows may come and go, but Sells Bros. Enormous United Exhibitions, like Tennyson's Book, seem destined to "go on forever." They have already been under one and the same ownership and management longer than any other similar enterprise now in existence, and their continual increase in size, attractiveness and popularity is a fair sign of health and longevity. The Messrs. Sells Bros. are legitimate, enterprising showmen and honorable men, with whom it is both pleasurable and profitable to do business. As such, both they and their stupendous and elegant entertainment will be presented at Middletown, Thursday, June 27th.

For their present tour, their wild beast, hippodromatic, circus, spectacular and other resources of instruction and amusement have been largely increased, and they undoubtedly present altogether the biggest and best show of its kind in the world. The three colossal circuses, fifty-cage menagerie, Roman hippodrome races, huge elevated stages, Australian aviary, gladiatorial combats, caravan of trained animals and street parade, contain more than enough strange sights, thrilling races, sensational acts and glowing pageants for a whole carnival week. Nor does mere quantity banish quality from the colossal tents. Such features as educated giant kangaroos, educated seals and sea lions, rooster orchestra, the flock of ostriches, and the pair of giant hippopotami are not to be found elsewhere. The hippodrome contests are of the most exciting character, the performances phenomenal. Make ready for a glorious holiday. This season the big show of the world has reduced the admission from fifty to twenty-five cents, including a seat to every visitor. Be in town early and see the grand street parade at 10 o'clock on the day of the exhibition. Seating capacity 12,000. Excursion rates on all lines of travel.

Lawn Party—Attending Court—Resigned as Assessor Home from New York—Children's Day.

Correspondence ARGUS and MERCURY.

—The Y. P. S. C. E. of Mount Salem will hold a lawn party at the home of Levi Wickham, on the mountain, Thursday evening, June 20th. If stormy next fair evening.

—John Buckbee is attending court at Newburgh, this week, as juryman.

—On account of ill health Isaac Dilliston has resigned as Assessor of this town. The Town Board accepted his resignation and appointed Percy Van Ness.

—Miss Emma Corwin returned home Friday from New York city, where she has been spending the past month.

—Children's Day was observed in the M. E. Church, Sunday morning and evening. The church was very tastefully decorated with flowers and evergreens, and with the children in their various costumes presented a beautiful picture to the audience. We would like to mention some of the recitations, but dare no seem invidious.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and ads to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50 cent bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

SHANKS!

That is a rather vulgar term some people use for designating walking. It is peculiarly adapted to the building lots we are selling on Richmond Hill. They are so close to the business portion of the city that you can walk there in less than five minutes. It does not cost ten to twenty cents a day to go and come If it did, we would not advise you to buy such a place. It would equal the interest on an ordinary home every year If you should borrow enough money to build a little home and were compelled to pay 20 or 30 cents every day to get there and back, it would be like paying 12 per cent. interest every year. This is one of the reasons we advise "Richmond Hill" lots; you can use "SHANKS," and, besides, property close to Franklin Square will always be worth more money than land two miles away. We are dividing profits with first comers.

NINETY-FIVE'S CLASS DAY.

INTERESTING EXERCISES AT WALLKILL ACADEMY, THIS AFTERNOON.

Members of the Graduating Class Meet at the Academy for the Last Time—Formal Farewells to the Old Building and Each Other—Addresses, History, Poem and Prophecy—Some in Serious and Some in Lighter Vein.

The class day exercises of Wallkill Academy class of '95 were held at the Academy, this afternoon, in the presence of a very large crowd of pupils and their friends.

The exercises opened with the salutatory address, in Latin, by Egbert J. Moore. The address was well delivered and seemed to impress most favorably the members of the class, who, of course, were able to follow the speaker closely and missed none of the strong points of his Ciceronian diction.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

Hugh Lowther, the President of the class, then delivered the following address speaking earnestly and impressively:

There is no one but who remembers their school days with joy.

In the capacity of students we are assembled here to-day for the last time. Here we have passed many a pleasant hour; within these walls we have acquired what knowledge we have.

Though we become separated, as engaged in various pursuits we pursue our journey through life, yet the fact of being schoolmates in the same school, classmates in the same class will prove an effective band of unity among us.

As we go forth from this academy, we will not find our path strewn with roses. Difficulties will—beset our ways, dangers and temptations must be overcome. Let us remain firm and steadfast and remembering that nothing is accomplished without labor, conquer these things.

As the Greek heroes strove by conquest in the Olympic games of old to carry off the palm of honor, so are we constantly aiming at a certain goal, success.

All of us may not attain fame, all of us may not attain glory, yet all of us may achieve success.

Remember: "Life is a leaf of paper white, whereon each of us may write his line or two, and then comes night."

Make that line your consummate effort. Go forward and never despair.

Grief fills our hearts at parting, sorrow that school days are over, joy at entering upon life's duties.

In conclusion, I wish to thank this class for the kindnesses and favors bestowed upon me. The associations I have formed I will always retain in my memory.

CLASS RETROSPECT.

After the singing of "Alma Mater" by the class, Miss Gertrude Beakes read the Class Retrospect or History, as follows:

CLASS HISTORY.

The past four years have been eventful ones not only to the class of '95, but to the whole school.

During this time slight alterations have been made in our school building, valuable additions have been made to our library and laboratory, the courses of study have been changed, teachers have come and gone and last, but not least, the noble class of '95 has risen from the depths of obscurity to the heights of renown.

Let us pause for a moment on the threshold of a new life and glance back at some of the earth-shaking events which have had so much to do with our career as students of "Old Wallkill."

It was during the reign of Roberts in the year of our Lord, 1891, when we first ascended the steps to the temple of knowledge as full-fledged Academic students. Many, many times since have we ascended those steps, but never with that same peculiar feeling of awe, as on that bright September morning, four years ago.

How proudly we walked into our session room and took our seats with a host of others. But, alas! The memory of that first recitation haunts us still

How we arose to our feet, trembling like aspen leaves, our brains whirling and, after muttering some utterly unintelligible words, we sank back again into our seats, wishing for only a hole in the floor to open and conceal us from the gaze of our teacher and schoolmates. But we soon became acquainted with our surroundings and our embarrassment disappeared.

Many of us associate Prof. Roberts with our first knowledge of amo, amas, amat during this year.

The days spent in Miss Royce's room, were "galar days," but the outside world hardly knew of our existence.

Nevertheless we were growing and imbibing those principles which were to prove so useful to us in the future. Of course we were subjected to the jeers and taunts of the upper classmen, as has always been the custom since time immemorial.

But we managed to live and thrive through it all.

When we entered upon our second year new teachers and a new principal greeted us. The rule of the latter, however, was short, and one Monday morning we entered our assembly room to find the desk deserted and the students wandering aimlessly about like sheep without a shepherd.

Our superintendent soon restored order and supplied the vacant place until a substitute could be found.

One morning we went to school, to find a new face at the desk, whose smiling countenance and sparkling blue eyes beamed down upon us.

We were now nearing the close of our second year and were, perhaps, a little more bold and fearless than heretofore.

When, after vacation, we returned to school as juniors we held our heads higher than formerly and already began to look down upon the poor, struggling freshman. With new teachers, the wheels of school life glided steadily onward without interruptions.

We were now subjected to the delightful task of appearing at rhetorical exercises, Friday afternoons.

We must have attained great success in this direction, for even the very floor we stood on showed its approval by gently trembling.

Occasionally the equilibrium of the school would be disturbed by the sudden appearance of a mouse or a stray dog or cat, but beyond this nothing of a very exciting nature occurred.

This year a pressing need of the school was supplied by the fitting up of a new laboratory, and the addition of new zoological and mineralogical specimens.

At the close of the year we were called upon to pay a last tribute to the senior class, by decorating the Casino for commencement. This was done in accordance with the characteristic neatness and artistic skill of the class.

After a period of two months rest we returned to our duties as seniors.

Nothing of especial importance occurred during the first part of the year, until we were informed that it was time to select the subjects and prepare the outlines of our graduating essays. Now began two months of hard work and hard worry, and it was with a sigh of relief that we handed in our essays just before Spring vacation.

One morning the following startling announcement was read: "A meeting of the seniors will be held after school in Mr. Haynes's room."

Ah! how our hearts heaved with pride at that word, senior, for hitherto not much class spirit had been shown.

The principal question before the class at this meeting was. "Who shall be our pilots for this year?" It was decided by ballot that Mr. Lowther should be President; Miss Thompson, Vice-President; Mr. Uptegrove, Secretary, and Miss Shafer, Treasurer.

Time has proven that these persons have guided our ship in a manner that calls forth our highest praise.

At subsequent meetings of the class, it was decided that our motto should be, "Nil Desperandum," meaning never despair, and that our class colors should be purple and gold. The emblem selected for our class was a pin with our motto, colors and the year '95 inscribed thereon.

Our academic course has now ended. Our trials and successes, our defeats and victories, have only been those of many other classes, but our influence on the world will be felt long after we are forgotten. Let us then always keep green in our memories, the noble class of '95.

CLASS STATISTICS.

Miss Clara A. Baker then read the class statistics, a most elaborate compilation of the physical and mental features and characteristics of the class, pieced out with much information and misinformation concerning the tastes and peculiarities of the different members. The hits made by the statistician were well received and seemed to be appreciated by the members of the class.

CLASS POEM.

Next on the programme was the class poem by Miss Anna Louise Hartwell, as follows:

I.

Through many trials hard to face,
The Ninety fives have reached this place
Of glory and renown
Oh, many a year and trying age
May pass away ere on the stage
Another class like them will rise
To please, to puzzle and surprise

II.

One well may wonder in what way
They've gained the knowledge they display
In Latin and in Greek,
If you would know the explanation
They never failed in recitation
But to their class in order went,
For work and not on pleasure bent

III

The faculty, too, deserve much praise,
For their patient and forgiving ways
In counsel and reproof
'Tis true they sometimes forfeited the class
To stay till five o'clock had passed
But the class by nature, forgiving creatures,
E'en then had affection for their teachers.

IV.

And now methinks 'tis only fair,
To give this building a fitting share
Of honor due to age
For generations have come and gone
And yet these walls have lingered on,
And still will linger till at last
They fall apart in a crumbling mass

V

We have just one regret to name,
But we've proceeded all the same
To the goal of victory

A WOMAN'S NERVES.

THE STORY OF A WOMAN TO WHOM NOISE WAS TORTURE.

Prostrated by the Least Excitement—Physicians Baffled by Her Case—Had Given Up in Despair When Relief was Found.

From the Gate City Keokuk, Iowa.

Mrs Helen Meyers whose home is at 3515 Vernon avenue, Chicago, and whose visit to Keokuk will long be remembered, was at one time afflicted with a nervous malady which at times drove her nearly to distraction.

"Those terrible headaches are a thing of the past," said she the other day to a Gate City representative, in the presence of a number of friends. "And," continued Mrs. Meyers, "there is quite a story in connection with it too, indeed I consider it one of the most miraculous cures of modern times.

"My nervous system sustained a great shock some fifteen years ago, brought on I believe through too much worrying over family matters and then allowing my love for my books to get the better of my discretion where my health was concerned. Why, whenever my affairs at home did not go along just as I expected, I would invariably become prostrated from the excitement and I would consider myself fortunate indeed if the effects of the attack would not remain for a week. I was obliged to give up our pleasant home not far from the Lake Shore drive, because I could not stand the noise in that locality. I could find no place in the city which I deemed suitable to one whose nervous system was always on the point of explosion. To add to my misfortunes my complexion underwent a change and I looked so yellow and sallow that I was ashamed to venture from the house at all.

"Madam," said my doctor to me soon after an unusually severe attack of the malady, "unless you leave the city and seek some place of quiet, you will never recover." So I concluded I would visit my uncle, who lives in Dallas County, Iowa, and whose farm would surely be a good place for one in my pitiable condition.

"Now for the strangest and most miraculous part of the story," continued Mrs. Meyers who had aroused the curiousity of her listeners. "My uncle used to live here in Keokuk, you know and when he moved to his Dallas County farm, he of course ordered the Gate City sent to his address. I picked up the paper one day and happened to come across an interesting recital of the recovery of some woman in New York State who was afflicted as I had been. This woman had been cured by Dr. William's Pink Pills for Pale People. I thought that if Pink Pills cured that woman they might do the same for me. I began to take the pills according to directions and I began to feel better from the start. My uncle told me two weeks after I commenced taking Pink Pills that he guessed he would not be afraid to discharge his old army musket now without warning me beforehand, for he didn't think it would affect me at all. I took several boxes of the Pink Pills and then I was ready to go back to Chicago. My nervousness was gone and my complexion was as fresh as that of any sixteen-year-old girl in Iowa and Pink Pills is what put the color in my cheeks. No wonder I am in such high spirits and feel like a prize fighter. And no wonder I like to come to Keokuk for if it had not been for Pink Pills bought from a firm I would not have been alive now," laughingly concluded the lady.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are not a patent medicine in the sense in which that term is usually understood, but are a scientific preparation successfully used in general practice for many years before being offered to the public generally. They contain in a condensed form all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood, and restores shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effects of the grippe, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexions, that tired feeling resulting from nervous prostration; all diseases resulting from vitiated humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic, erysipelas, etc. They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, suppressions, irregularities, and all forms of weakness. They build up the blood and restore the glow of health to pale or sallow cheeks. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arrising from mental worry, overwork, or excesses of whatever nature.

These Pills are manfactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., and are sold only in boxes bearing the firm's trade mark and wrapper at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2 50.

A Great Blood Purifier.

"I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and find it to be as recommended. It has helped me very much. I regard it as an excellent medicine for the blood, and recommend it to any one who needs a medicine of this kind." John. W. Cronk, Fort Montgomery, N. Y.

In 1893, under Gov. Pattison, Democrat, Pennsylvania expended $552,659 for salaries in all departments of the State government. The Republican Legislature of 1895, encouraged to reckless extravagance by a Republican majority of 200,000, created so many new offices and raised so many salaries that the salary appropriation for the current year is $1,369,816, an increase of $817,157 Such a showing ought to make another Democratic administration a certainty even in Republican Pennsylvania.

SAVED FROM DROWNING.

An O. & W. Fireman Rescued From Drowning In the Chenango River.

Mr. Reuben Vandermark a fireman on the O. & W., who resides at No. 185 North Street, this city, and Messrs. Wm. B. Wolf, Charles Prime, Wm. Hurlehy of this city, and Geo. Kennedy of Norwich went swimming in the Chenago river yesterday. They soon began throwing water and mud at each other, when Mr. Vandermark began to strangle. Although his companions went to his assistance as soon as they realized his danger, he sank several times before he was finally rescued.

He was taken ashore unconsious and his friends worked hard with him for about twenty minutes before he showed any signed of life. He was unable to make his run on the train, but was brought home by his train crew.

Mr. Prime had a narrow escape from drowning in trying to save his friend.

THE REPUBLICAN LEAGUE.

A Fight to Be Made By the Free Silver Men.

BY UNITED PRESS.

CLEVELAND, June 19.—The convention of the Republican League met, to-day, in Music Hall. Mayor McKisson welcomed the delegates on behalf of the city.

The fight of the convention promises to be on the silver question. Chairman Carter, of the National Committee, and Senator DuBois have been commissioned by the silver men to fight for silver to the last. The free silver men will try to commit the party to free coinage at a ratio of 16 to 1.

THREE SUICIDES.

BY UNITED PRESS.

NEW YORK, June 19.—George Caldwell, John Mager and Henry Dubenschmidt committed suicide, to-day, in different parts of the city. The first two inhaled gas and the third shot himself.

Found a Gold Watch.

A small boy found a ladies' gold watch and chain in the gutter on East Main street, opposite Pronk's drug store, yesterday afternoon.

Weak, Tired, Nervous

"I was feeling as miserable as any one could feel, tired all the time, many times unable to go out on the street even after I had started. If I went up one flight of stairs I felt as though I should fall. I had palpitation of the heart and suffered greatly with catarrh of the head and throat. I finally decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon felt better. I used the third bottle and I then felt like a different person. I hope others in ill health will do as I did. If you take Hood's Sarsaparilla and use it faithfully I am sure you will be benefited. I have also found Hood's Pills to be of great benefit and I highly recommend them." WHY?

QUESTIONS WOMEN ASK

Here Answered with Good Sound Reason.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

Why do people say that Lydia E. Pinkham's treatment, especially her Vegetable Compound, effects cures beyond the physician's skill?

Because of the fact that a woman best understands a woman'sills. What man ever suffered a single pang like unto woman? Man works from theory only.

Why do tens of thousands of women write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., telling their most secret thoughts?

Because they know that their letters go straight to the hands of a woman, are opened, read, and answered by a woman, who as a woman has made woman's ills a life study, and because she never fails them, and cures cases which the doctor cannot.

The lady who asks that the following letter be published, gives concisely the uniform expression of gratitude contained in thousands of other letters in Mrs. Pinkham's possession.

"For eight years I suffered with neuralgia of the womb, backache, severe pains all through my body, and kidney trouble. None of the doctors did me any good. I took twelve bottles of your Vegetable Compound, and cannot thank you enough for the relief I found.

"I am now well cured of all those pains. I should advise every woman to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound who has any female trouble. I had a friend who was to go under an operation. I advised her first to try the Compound. She did, and is now so much better and stronger she has given up all thoughts of the operation." — MRS. M. WILDE, 2137 Park St., Tioga, Pa.

VISITING MILITIAMEN.

The 5th Separate Company, of Newburgh, and the 24th in Battalion Drill at the State Hospital.

The 5th Separate Company, of Newburgh, arrived in town on Erie train 21, this morning, and marched at once to the armory, where the company was dismissed until noon, when it re-assembled for luncheon, which was served in the supper room at the armory.

The company came seventy-five strong, with Captain James T. Chase in command. The other commissioned and non-commissioned officers were: First Lieutenant William F. Sheehan, Assistant Surgeon Kingston, First Sergeant Gardner, Quartermaster Sergeant O'Brien, Sergeants Whitman, Dunn, Boothe and Dinan, Corporals Gallagher, James McDowell, John McDowell, Faulkner, Harris, Blye, Smith and Robinson.

Mr. E. A. Bush, of the Hospital Corps, who is also a reporter of the Daily News, was with the company.

At 1 o'clock the 24th and 5th assembled at the armory, and in a three company battalion formation marched to the State Hospital grounds, where a battalion drill was held.

A dress parade was also given, after which the companies returned to the armory, where dinner will be served at 6 o'clock.

The Newburgh soldiers are a fine body of men, and during their stay in this city deported themselves in a way creditable alike to themselves, the city in which they reside and the national guard.

OBITUARY.

Miss Mary Parker.

Miss Mary Parker, formerly of New Holland, O., died at Warwick on Monday, of cancer, aged about forty-five years. She has been living with Mrs. M. M. Rounsadell, for more than a year past.

Miss Parker is widely known throughout the whole country by her religious writings. Among her published works are "Reminisences and Letters of Mary Parker," in two volumes, which have been read by many people of all religious denominations.

She was a member of the Old School Baptist Church, at Mill Creek, Ohio. Her father was a minister in that denomination, and was especially well known throughout the west.

The funeral was held at the Warwick Church at 1:30 p. m. to-day. Elder Jenkins of this city officiated. The body will be taken to New Holland, Ohio, for interment.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

A Town of Greenville Case—Damage Suit Against the Newburgh Electric Road

In the suit of Martin V. Sigler vs. Ransom Wilcox, growing out of the renting of a farm in the town of Greenville, the jury gave plaintiff, who sued for $360, a verdict for $290.

The next case was that of William Pfeiffer against the Newburgh Electric Railroad Company, to recover $4 000 damages for injuries sustained on the night of July 4th, 1894, when a car collided with Mr. Pfeiffer's wagon, throwing all the occupants out, killing one, Mrs. Moses, and injuring Emily Moses, Samuel Berge and Mr. Pfeiffer. The contention of the plaintiff is that the accident was due to the negligence of the motorman, who did not slow up when he saw that Mr. Pfeiffer's horses were frightened. The defense is that the accident was due to the horses taking fright at a firecraker and to Mr. Pfeiffer's whipping them so that they plunged on the track in front of the car.

The jury, this afternoon, gave plaintiff a verdict for $500

MIDDLETOWN'S ELECTION.

The Taxpayers Deciding the Proposition to Increase Their Taxes—Polls Open Until 8 O'clock This Evening.

The tax election is in progress at the Corporation Rooms as we go to press. At 3:30 o'clock 60 votes had been cast.

It is impossible now to give any idea of the result of the election. All the items may be allowed and some or all may be voted down. Those who have not yet voted can do so any time befor 8 o'clock.

The following are the sums appropriated by the Common Council, which will go into the tax levy:

Police	$ 6,000 00
Streets	7,000 00
Lighting streets	10,000 00
Compensating city officers.	3,500 00
Crosswalks	500 00
Bridges	700 00
Repairing city property	800 00
Printing and advertising	400 00
Fire contingent	2,400 00
Paving gutters	1,000 00
Corporation Rooms	100 00
Tools	100 00
Board of Health	1,000 00
Damages and legal expenses	2,600 00
Rent and supplies, Recorder's office	300 00
Printing annual statement	50 00
Surface sewers	1,000 00
Parks	800 00
Maintaining horses, Eagle Hose Co	700 00
Fire alarm system	400 00
Fire dep't. supplies	300 00
Supt. fire alarm	400 00
Chief engineer, fire dept	100 00
Cleaning Monhagen brook.	300 00
Cleaning black dirt brook.	100 00
Charter election expenses.	2,255 12
Total	$42,205 12

In addition to the above the following sums must be added to the levy:

Board of Education	$22,600 00
Sinking fund	2,000 00
Interest on sewer bonds	800 00
Interest on notes, etc	395 77
Erroneous taxes	47 49
Total	$25,843 26

This added to the Council's budget makes a total of $68,048 38, a very respectable tax levy of itself, and within $1,960.80 of the total amount of last year's levy.

In addition to this, however, the Council asks the taxpayers to vote the following sums:

Permanent street fund	$ 7,500 00
Thrall Hospital	1,250 00
New truck for Excelsiors	1,800 00
Annual fire parade	700 00
Winding town clock	100 00
Gen. Lyon Post, G. A. R.	50 00
Capt. Jackson Post "	50 00
Total	$11,450 00

Should the taxpayers see to fit to vote $7,500 for permanent street improvements, in addition to the $7,000 for streets appropriated by the Council; the $1,800 for a new truck for Excelsiors; $1,2 50 for Thrall Hospital; $700 for the parade and the amounts asked for winding clock and G. A. R Posts, the total tax levy will be $79,498 38, or $9 489 20 more than last year, when, as we all know, our taxes were high enough.

It is also understood that the amount named in the second table given above for erroneous taxes will have to be increased, but how much is not yet known.

Taxpayers must remember that they cannot scale down any of the amounts but must vote no or yes on each item.

With a regular tax levy of nearly $80,000 and the need of many thousand dollars more for school buildings, which the Board of Education must have and which they cannot secure by issuing bonds as was proposed, to say nothing of the necessity of expending a very large sum for more water, with Wawayanda's demand that we should take care of the city's sewerage, which, if we are compelled to do it, will cost a very large sum of money, it behooves the taxpayers to think well before they act.

There should have been more economy in making the Common Council appropriations. Seven thousand dollars for a general street fund has been appropriated and the people are asked to put up $7,500 more as a general tax, which means that property owners along the line of the permanent improvements must pay $15,000 more.

Middletown's tax rate has increased altogether too fast in recent years, but it is asking a good deal of the people to make an increase of $10,000 in a single year. A high tax rate does not add to a city's prosperity.

The W. A. C. Base Ball Club.

The W. A. C. base ball club, a newly organized team of this city, met Monday evening and elected officers for the season. They would like to hear from clubs averaging eighteen years of age. The following are the players and their positions: C. Munson, c.; J. Milligan, p; Chas. Jacobus, 1st b.; L. Brown, 2nd b.; H. Malone, s. s.; O. Sitzer, 3rd b; C. Adelmen, l. f.; P. Wengenroth, c. f.; Wm. Dolan, r. f.

The officers are: Manager, J. Milligan; Captain, Chas. Jacobus; Treasurer, P. Wengenroth.

Challenges may be sent to J. Milligan at Pronk & Foster's grocery store, or Chas. Jacobus, 3 Linden avenue.

Drs. Jones & Potter's special system for curing rupture consists of placing in the canal through which the rupture passes their healing medicine with the hypodermic needle, each week, until it is entirely healed. It does not cause pain, danger or detention from business.

PARLOR TALK ON REMBRANDT.

Prof. Van Ingen, of Vassar College, Lectures Before the Art Club and Its Guests at Dr. Talcott's.

The Monday Art Club, through the courtesy of Dr. and Mrs. Talcott and Miss Munger, entertained the Travelers' Club and other guests, last evening, the occasion being a parlor talk given by Prof. Van Ingen, of Vassar College.

Miss Lizzie Royce, President of the Art Club, introduced the Professor in a most graceful little speech, alluding to the four years during which she had enjoyed his art lectures at Vassar.

The subject of the talk,—Rembrandt and the Dutch School, was of special interest to all the club ladies present, as Holland and its painters have been the subject of their winter's study.

Prof. Van Ingen, being a Dutchman himself, is intensely interested in the subject, and he carried the audience with him from beginning to end of the talk, rousing them to a most enthusiastic interest in both subject and speaker.

Mr. Van Ingen had photographs with which he illustrated his talk, and which he showed informally to the guests afterward.

After the lecture Miss Julia Wickham favored the audience with two beautiful songs, and the guests were served with ice cream and cake on the veranda.

The audience, who were charmed with Mr. Van Ingen, will be glad to know that there is a prospect of his returning to Middletown to give a course of lectures at some future day.

Singular Mishap.

Two young ladies of this city, who are great friends, had a singular experience Sunday. In the morning one of them fell while attempting to climb out of a window, and cut her hands and bruised her knees quite badly. In the afternoon the other fell while jumping from a car, and sustained injuries so nearly like those of her friend, that the cuts and blue spots are almost identical. Moral—girls should not jump.

Card of Thanks.

The undersigned desires through the ARGUS to thank her many friends for their kindness and sympathy in her recent bereavement; also the gentleman who assisted in recovering the body of her son, and his friends for their beautiful floral tributes.

IN ENGLAND'S HOUSE.

AMERICANS WHO ARE MEMBERS OF QUEEN VICTORIA'S PARLIAMENT.

Two Are Brothers, One Being Husband of the World's Richest Woman—A New England Channing an M. P.—Major Jones and Dr. Fox Have Been American Citizens.

It is so common for men of foreign birth to become members of congress in the United States that the election of other than natives causes no manner of comment whatever. In England it is different. Although there are no constitutional or statutory provisions that natives of the British empire only shall enter parliament, cases of the alien born who become British lawmakers are so rare as to be thought worthy of special vote. Among those now sitting in the house of commons are three native Americans, and two who, though born under the shadow of the British flag, at some time in their lives have lived in the United States and assumed the duties of American citizenship, but having returned to England have won the right to sit in the British lower house and to the honors that such right carries with it. The American born members of parliament are Sir Ellis Ashmead-Bartlett, Mr. Bartlett Burdett-Coutts, both of the old Bartlett family of Plymouth, Mass., and Mr. F. A. Channing, born in Boston. The two members of parliament born on the soil of Victoria's dominions who have been American citizens, but have returned to the old country, are Major E. B. Jones and Dr. J. F. Fox.

Of these five men Mr. Bartlett Burdett-Coutts is best known in America. There is no donbt whatever that he is of the old Bartlett family, nor that his name when he first went to England was William Lehmann Ashmead-Bartlett, but there is a question as to where he was born, one authority giving his natal place as Plymouth, Mass., another as Brooklyn, and still another as New Brunswick, N. J. According to the last mentioned authority, the father of the man now under consideration was a merchant, who had two sons, Ellis, born in 1849, and William Lehmann, born in 1851. These boys were sent to England early in the sixties to be educated. The older studied at Christ Church college, the other at Keble, Oxford, and both were duly graduated with honors.

It was while the younger was in college that he met his present wife, the Baroness Burdett-Coutts, who was and is distinguished as the richest woman in England. From the time she set eyes on the young American she exhibited a decided preference for him and engaged him as private secretary, a little more than a year after his graduation in 1876. At first he decided to follow the legal profession, and to that end was called to the bar of the Inner Temple, but the emoluments of his private secretaryship were so considerable that he gave up all thought of the law and devoted himself to the baroness and her fortune. In 1881, after he had been in her service for about five years, he married her, in spite of the facts that she was nearly half a century older than he; that she was uncomely in appearance to the verge of positive ugliness, and that she had the reputation of being almost as eccentric as she was rich.

It was one of the conditions of this marriage that the young American should abandon his own name and assume that of his wife, and that is the reason he is now Mr Burdett-Coutts instead of Mr. Ashmead-Bartlett. It took a royal decree to legalize this change of name, but no such thing was necessary to the realization of the other leading condition—that £50,000, or $250,000, a year should be settled upon him from the enormous income of his aged wife's estate This great sum, it should be understood, is his absolutely for pocket money, as his board and the couple's household expenses are met out of the remainder of her income.

While the financial rewards of this man are almost fabulous in extent there is no denying that he showed great bravery in the winning of them, for in spite of his wealth and consequent ability to "put on side," and lots of it, neither he nor his wife is acceptable to London's "smart set," and he is barred from all the clubs of the world's metropolis excepting the Carlton, which took him in when he was first chosen to parliament because he was Conservative in politics. That he is a brave man in the best sense was proved by Mr. Burdett-Coutts in 1877, four years before his marriage, when he was still Mr. Ashmead. Bartlett. The war between Russia and Turkey was on at that time, and the baroness, then his employer only, raised a big fund, termed the Turkish compassionate fund, for the relief of Turkish refugees. As commissioner of this fund he ran the gantlet of many dangers, which wound up by his falling ill of typhoid fever in the autumn of 1878. So greatly were his services valued by the sultan that the Turkish potentate conferred the imperial Order of the Medjidie upon the young American. After his return to England he went into the Irish relief work with great vim and enthusiasm, and since his marriage he has rendered all sorts of public services.

Though a Conservative, he is one of the idols of the British masses, and his wife, whose great wealth was inherited from a long line of immensely rich banking ancestors, is another, for her charities have been extensive almost beyond calculation and generally of the practical sort.

Burdett-Coutts is said to be of "distinguished appearance and pleasing manners, an excellent speaker, an earnest politician and a regular attendant at the house," to which he was first elected in 1885. He has done some writing, has a fine stud of horses, mostly hackneys, keeps dogs and is considered a "true sportsman." Despite the disparity as to age between himself and his wealthy and aged wife, he now looks almost as old as she.

The older brother of Burdett-Coutts, Sir Ellis Ashmead-Bartlett, has been more of a success on his own merits than as the husband of the baroness. He has been in parliament ever since 1885 and has also served as a civil lord of the admiralty, and it is this office from which he derives his title. Some four or five years ago he was named corespondent in a divorce suit, all the interested parties to which, saving himself, were members of the British aristocracy. He was decidedly unpopular in London before that and has been more so since. Although no part of his unpopularity is due probably to his American birth, it is undoubtedly true that both brothers have made themselves somewhat odious by their persistent attempts to give casual acquaintances the impression that they are English born.

Like his brother, Sir Ellis Ashmead-Bartlett is a "true blue" Conservative.

MR. F. A. CHANNING

though he often attacks his own side of the political house, and at times during the past year or two he has been a particularly sharp thorn in the side of the prime minister, Lord Rosebery.

Mr. F. A. Channing, the Boston born man who is now a member of parliament from Northamptonshire, is a vastly different man from the brothers that have just been described. This difference is political as well as personal, for while they are both intensely Conservative he is Liberal to the core. He represents a district of Nottingham. His father was the late W. H. Channing, a brother of the celebrated William Ellery Channing, who, after a series of pastorates in American cities, was preaching to an English congregation in Liverpool when the civil war broke out. Owing to his devotion to the Union, the Rev. Mr. Channing then returned to America and for some years preached in Washington, where he became chaplain of the senate. His daughter, the sister of Mr. F. A. Channing, married Sir Edwin Arnold

Dr. J. F. Fox, M. P. from Tullamore, who often passes for an American and is not ashamed of it, was born in Ireland and educated at Queen's College court, where he took up music teaching as an occupation. Later he came to America, studied medicine on this side of the water and for some years practiced at Troy It is this circumstance that gives him his repute as an American.

Major Evan R. Jones, M. P. from Cardiff, despite his thoroughly Welsh name and his Welsh nativity, is more entitled to be considered an American than is Dr. Fox, for Major Jones fought for the Union in the civil war, and after the close of hostilities was made United States consul at Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and after his term there had expired was appointed to a similar position at Cardiff, where he now resides. While consul at Cardiff he wrote a report on the wages and conditions of labor in Wales which attracted much attention. Besides being a member of parliament he is well known throughout the United Kingdom as the editor of The Shipping World and the author of "The Shipping World Year Book," a work which is of special value to seamen. Like Dr. Fox, Major Jones is often spoken of in England as an American, and, unlike Sir Ellis Ashmead-Bartlett and his brother, the husband of the richest woman in the world, Major Jones is not displeased at being considered a native of the new world.

In Nov. and Dec., 1893, The inmates had the "LaGrippe," and I was one of the first. Resuming duty too soon, with the care of so many sick, I did not regain my health, and in a month I became so debilitated and nervous from sleeplessness and the drafts made on my vitality, that it was a question if I could go on. A dear friend advised me to try Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. I took 2 bottles and am happy to say, I am in better health than ever. I still continue Its occasional use, as a nerve food, as my work is very trying. A letter addressed to Milwaukee, Wis., will reach me."

"For five years, I was a great sufferer from a most persistent blood disease, none of the various medicines I took being of any help whatever. Hoping that change of climate would benefit me, I went to Cuba, to Florida, and then to Saratoga Springs, where I remained some time drinking the waters. But all was no use. At last, being advised by several friends to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, I began taking it, and very soon favorable results were manifest. To-day I consider myself a perfectly healthy man, with a good appetite and not the least trace of my former complaint. DON'T STOP TOBACCO

It is Injurious To Stop Suddenly

And don't be imposed upon by buying a remedy that requires you to do so, as it is nothing more than a substitute. In the sudden stoppage of the use of tobacco you must have some stimulant, and in most all cases, the effect of the stimulant, be it opium, morphine, or other opiates, leaves a far worse habit contracted. Ask your druggist about "BACO-CURO." It is purely vegetable. You do not have to stop using tobacco with "BACO-CURO." It will notify you when to stop and your desire for tobacco will cease. Your system will be as free from nicotine as the day before you took your first chew or smoke. An ironclad written guarantee to absolutely cure the tobacco habit in all its forms, or money refunded.

Dear Sirs—I have been a tobacco fiend for many years, and during the past two years have smoked fifteen to twenty cigars regularly every day. My whole nervous system became affected, until my physician told me I must give up the use of tobacco for the time being at least. I tried the so-called "Keeley Cure," "No-To-Bac," and various other remedies, but without success, until I accidentally learned of your "Baco-Curo." Three weeks ago to-day I commenced using your preparation, and to-day I consider myself completely cured. I am in perfect health, and the horrible craving for tobacco, which every inveterate smoker fully appreciates, has completely left me. I consider your "Baco-Curo" simply wonderful, and can fully recommend it.
Yours very truly, C. W. HORNICK.

Dear Sirs—I have been a tobacco fiend for thirty-three years and during the past two years have used chewing tobacco very extensively. My nervous system also contracted considerable. I have often tried to give up the use of tobacco, but always failed, until I bought three boxes of your "Baco-Curo." I used tobacco at the same time while taking "Baco-Curo," and after a week I lost the appetite for tobacco—smoking or chewing. I am enjoying better health and consider your "Baco-Curo" the safest, most harmless and reliable remedy for to break the tobacco habit.
Yours truly, JOHN RODDEN,

Gentlemen—Last summer I furnished Mr James Reid, of the town of Burnside, Trempealeau Co., with three boxes of your "Baco-Curo." He had chewed tobacco for over forty years and the last year used over sixty-five pounds. He commenced using "Baco-Curo" and one box did not have the effect, when he had used about one-half of the second box, he began to lose his taste for tobacco, and when he had used one-half of the third box he had lost all his appetite for it, and is now entirely cured.
Yours truly, J. C. TAYLOR, Druggist.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

This is to certify that I, William S. Sawyer, of Atlantic, County of Cass, State of Iowa, having been an inveterate smoker of tobacco, bought three boxes of "Baco-Curo" Dec. 21, 1894. Began taking same according to directions and can say that I am completely cured of the tobacco habit. "Baco-Curo" is simply wonderful and I recommend it to all who are slaves to the tobacco habit and wish to be cured. I am in perfect health and have not felt so well in years. That terrible craving, which every tobacco user has more or less, has completely disappeared and I feel like a new man. Hoping that this may do some one good and lead them to try this wonderful remedy, "Baco-Curo," I remain, Yours truly,
WM. S. SAWYER, Atlantic, Iowa.

Gentlemen—For forty years I used tobacco in all its forms. For twenty-five years of that time I was a great sufferer from general debility and heart disease. For fifteen years I tried to quit, but couldn't. I took various remedies, among others "No-To-Bac," "The Indian Tobacco Antidote," "Double Chloride of Gold," etc., etc., but none of them did me the least bit of good. Finally, however I purchased a box of your "Baco-Curo" and it has entirely cured me of the habit in all its forms, and I have increased thirty pounds in weight and am relieved from all the numerous aches and pains of body and mind. I could write a quire of paper upon my changed feelings and condition.
Yours respectfully, P. H. MARBURY,
Pastor C. P. Church, Clayton, Ark.

WHAT MR. KRAEMER SAYS OF "BACO-CURO."

ATLANTIC, Iowa, Feb 4, 1895.

This is to certify that A. F. D. Kraemer, of Atlantic, Iowa, was an inveterate smoker of cigarettes for more than two years.

About eight weeks ago I bought three boxes of "Baco-Curo." I began taking it according to directions, and after taking one and one-half boxes, all the desire for cigarettes left me, and I have had no desire since.

I can heartily recommend "Baco-Curo" to all who are slaves to the cigarette habit or tobacco habit in any form, and are in search of a cure. I had become so under the influence of cigarettes, I could not remember anything; could not study, unless under the influence of the drug, which is death in the end, if kept up.

Cigarettes are sapping the lives out of more boys and young men to-day, than anything that is known to the world. Boys, before it is too late get some of this remedy that killed the craving for cigarettes in me and save your young life. Restore yourself to manhood. You will feel as though you had escaped an awful doom, and you have, when cured by "Baco-Curo," for you feel like a new being. I never felt better in all my life than at this present writing. I did not know what was the matter with me, until informed by the agent. He told me what was the reason I could not do anything unless under the influence of the death-dealing poison found in cigarettes. I did not believe him at first, until he explained the action on the system. Then I bought the goods and thank God and all concerned, I am a sound person to-day. Hoping that this may reach the unfortunate cigarette smoker, I remain. Yours respectfully,
F. D. KRAEMER.

Fair's Big Wheat Deal.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 19.—An evening paper publishes a sensational story, stating that the late Senator Fair had a partner in his purchase of 206,000 tons of wheat, by which speculation a loss of about $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 was incurred. Since Fair's death strenuous efforts have been made to conceal the fact, the living partner putting the entire loss upon the dead. Wholesale bribery of clerks, brokers and others intimately connected with the big wheat deal is said to have accomplished silence regarding the partner who did not pay his share of the loss.

The Zimmerman-Johnson Race.

NEW YORK, June 19.—The Zimmerman-Johnson proposed bicycle race for $5,000 a side has at last assumed a business look. Eck, Johnson's trainer, will not allow his man to race at Asbury Park, and is sustained by many people, as the Asbury Park people, he says, are intense partisans of Zimmerman, but Johnson is ready and anxious to race the Jersey rider anywhere he names outside of Asbury Park. Eck went to Philadelphia this morning to sign articles of agreement with Zimmerman's manager.

Cyclist Lenz's Murderers Located.

ST. LOUIS, June 19.—A letter from Erzeroum, Turkey in Asia, has been received by Homer A. Canfield from his partner, William L. Sachteleben, the St. Louis wheelman, who left here four months ago for Asia Minor to locate and bring to justice the murderers of Frank Lenz, the Pittsburg cyclist who lost his life there. Sachteleben writes that he has discovered the identity of the Kurdish chief who planned the killing, and the five men who helped him commit the deed.

The Austrian Ministry Resigns.

VIENNA, June 19.—Prince Alfred Windischgratz, president of the ministry for Austria, tendered the resignation of the ministry to Emperor Francis Joseph yesterday. A provisional cabinet is expected under the Marquis de Bacquehem, who was minister of the interior for Austria in the cabinet that has just resigned.

Fortune Tellers Must Leave Atlantic.

ATLANTIC CITY, June 19.—Mayor Stoy and Chief of Police Eldridge have instituted a crusade upon the fortune tellers, and the mayor has issued a ukase commanding all persons of that class to leave the city within eight days.

Lamont's Tour of Inspection.

CINCINNATI, June 19.—Hon. Daniel Lamont, secretary of war, stopped here on his journey to the west, and made an inspection of the troops and garrisons at Fort Thomas. He was deeply interested in finding under the shelter of the fort a party of Creek Indians who deserted a Wild West show here. The Indians were wild with joy when they heard of the presence of the great chief from Washington. Secretary Lamont was interested in their recital of their trouble, and directed the commander of the post, Colonel Cochran, to do what could be done to help them.

Suicide Rather Than Blindness.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., June 19.—Joseph Koch left home yesterday morning for Aineville and was found drowned in the evening in the Lehigh river. The body stood upright in the water when found near the wharf of the Allentown Rolling mills. It was a case of suicide. Koch's eyesight had been failing him rapidly, and he became discouraged over the poor prospects of supporting himself. He was well advanced in years and left a family.

Prefers His Profession.

BALTIMORE, June 19. — United States Senator Gibson was being congratulated upon the successful issue of a suit in which he was professionally engaged when he said: "I would rather practice law than sit in the United States senate."

Resumed After Two Years' Idleness.

EASTON, Pa., June 19.—The Glendon Iron works, near this city, which have been idle for two years, were started up yesterday afternoon. Only one stack was put in operation, but the others will be lighted before long.

Gomez's Rear Guard Routed.

MADRID, June 19.—An official telegram from Havana says that General Serrano has inflicted two defeats upon Gomez's rear guard and several smaller rebel bands were routed in the district of Remedios and Aguadilla, in the province of Santa Clara.

The Amesbury Strike Spreading.

AMESBURY, Mass., June 19.—The 400 operatives in the mills who were at work have joined the ranks of the strikers, and it is feared that a prolonged fight will result. Last night all of the eight mills of the Hamilton corporation were shut down.

The New Valkyrie's Maiden Trip.

GLASGOW, June 19.—Valkyrie III, the challenger for the America's cup, started on her maiden trip yesterday. Lord Dunraven and the designer of the yacht, George L. Watson, were on board of her. There was little wind blowing across the Clyde, and the general opinion formed after the performance of Valkyrie III was that she will not prove to be a light wind boat.

Glassworkers' Scale Settled.

PITTSBURG, June 19.—The conference between the American flint glassworkers and the manufacturers resulted in the adoption of last year's scale, except for engravers, who have been reduced 10 to 20 per cent. on the cheaper grades of work, where the machines enter into competition.

Governor Atkinson a Little Better.

ATLANTA, June 19.—Last night the attending physicians issued the following bulletin: "We have just left Governor Atkinson's room. He has passed a reasonably comfortable day, though his condition is still very critical." Following this the governor experienced a turn for the better and at midnight he was considerably improved. He is perfectly conscious, discussing his condition and chances for recovery with marvelous coolness, and is altogether making a remarkable fight for his life.

A False Diagnosis.

La Grippe is confounded by many persons with a severe attack of catarrh, which in some respects resembles the former. These individuals suffer severely with pain about the head, eyes and ears, with soreness in throat and stoppage of the nasal passages, and in fact, are incapacitated for work of any kind for days at a time. These are catarrhal sufferers. Ely's Cream Balm has been used with the best results in such cases. The remedy will give instant relief.

NINETY-FIVE'S CLASS DAY.

"The boys are few and far between.
But three of them have faithful been,
Yet, though their numbers are very few,
We'll give to them the praises due.

VI.

Dear classmates, now our task is through
But ere we part a word to you,
Our motto ne'er forget:
We've stood together firm and strong,
The years to us have not seemed long;
Then let us sing with hearty will Hurrah! Hurrah! for old Wallkill!"

READINGS.

Miss Sara Grace Grover read the "Story of Æneas and Dido, with good expression and Miss J. Adelaide Smith followed with "Die Tag-n der Rosen" in German.

CLASS PROPHECY.

Next on the programme was the Class Prophecy by Miss Maysie B. Thompson:

One summer day I fell into a dreamy reverie and soon sleep kissed my eyelids down.

"A pleasing land of drowsy head it was
Of dreams that wave before the half shut eye,
And of gay castles in the clouds that pass,
Forever flushing round a summer sky."

And it came to pass that

"I had a vision in my sleep,
And behold my ministering angel brought it.
I stood upon a mountain vast and high."

The mists that veiled the future rolled away and the gift of second sight was mine. To tell of all the wonders that I saw would weary even you, accustomed as you have become to homilies and lectures during your academic course. So I will only tell you of such revelations as were made to me that have a personal interest for you,—my classmates.

First, a gigantic hurdy-gurdy floated before my eyes. From it came weird, unearthly strains of melody, such music as you less favored mortals never hear. The crank of this huge organ was being turned by a woman with a rapt, St. Cecilia look upon her face. I did not recognize her at first, and turning to my familiar spirit I asked: "Who is this great musician of the future?" and my familiar spirit made answer: "Know you not Nelly Shafer, Treasurer of the Class of '95 of Wallkill Academy,—the great musician of the twentieth century,—the feminine embodiment of Handel, Haydn, Mendelssohn and Wagner?"

The curtain is falling upon a theatre's stage, and the house echoes and re-echoes with tremendous applause. The manager leads before the curtain an actress draped in our country's stars and stripes. She takes her cap from her head and bows her acknowledgements. I glance at the play bill which the spirit hands me and see that the "Great Republic" is being produced for the 999,000:h time, and that its phenomenal success has been due to the star Goddess of Liberty of the world, Clara A. Baker.

The scene changes; before me rises a magnificent structure,—towers, spires and gilded minarets. "The new Wallkill Academy," says the spirit at my elbow. The only person visible in or about the building is a comely, intellectual woman, whom my master of ceremonies introduces as Miss Julia Adelaide Smith, Principal, Preceptress, Regent and Vice Regent,—the brain and sinew of the new academy. She succeeded Mr. William A. Wilson and most of his assistants upon the completion of the new building.

The scholastic vision fades away, and fertile farm lands, acres upon acres, stretch out in restful pastoral beauty before my eyes. A beautiful farm house, surrounded by spacious barns and outbuildings, occupies a commanding site in the centre of this scene of agricultural peace, plenty and prosperity. Says the spirit: "A peculiarity of this farm is the fact that no horse is owned or allowed to set foot upon it. The owner is dead struck on cows. He uses them in the same way that other people use horses and has, at present, not less than seventeen thoroughbred Holstein saddle cows in his stables. There he comes now." And I saw galloping across a field on a beautifully coparisoned cow, a sturdy farmer, whom I easily recognized as our friend and classmate from the rural "deestricks," Egbert Moore.

A street in Orange N J. A trolley car approaches. It contains but a single passenger, a woman, and the spirit at my side says: "Sara Grace Grover's ideal realized The dreams of her youth were marriage, trolley cars and life in Orange. Soon after her graduation the man from Orange appeared, and best of all he was an electric railroad magnate. So now instead of horses and carriages Sara has her own private electric car in which she takes her airings."

Flying, flitting, rushing wildly, never stopping in her mad career, a "hurricane in petticoats" dashed before my startled eyes. Seeing my astonishment the kind spirit says: "Why, that is Agnes Macardell, whom Mr. Haynes, as you perhaps remember, loved to call the listless one. After graduation she devoted herself to the study of June bugs and beetles and the enthusiasm born of these entomological pursuits changed her nature and made her as you see her now."

A room piled high with books,—a student's workshop. At a table sits a bent and prematurely aged man tracing strange characters upon a sheet of parchment. As I turn to question the spirit, he, quick to read my thoughts, asks in surprise: "Don't you know Hugh Lowther, the sage of Fishkill? The great linguist who has mastered all languages and dialects spoken or written, or that ever have been spoken or written in this world of ours, and is now engaged in inventing and constructing an entirely new language."

A scene in Germany,—on the Rhine,—the ancestral home of one of Germany's proudest princes. A haired haired princess is the queen of this stately home. There is something strangely familiar in her looks, and her walk and manner show traces of American birth and Wallkill Academy culture. The spirit says: "Frau Nellie Van Duzar Von Hoopensack, Princess of Saxe-Hesse-Westphalia, wooed and won by the noble prince, because she knew more German than the Germans."

A tall, thin scholarly looking woman passes before my eyes, her "fair brow sicklied o'er with the pale yellow cast of thought." I turn with an inquiry in my eyes to my attending spirit, who says: "Gertrude Beakes, a Regents' examination fiend. Poor girl! She acquired the Regents' examination habit while a student at Wallkill Academy. She took four exams in a day and wanted to take more. The thing struck in and after graduation she devoted herself exclusively to Regents' examinations and wasted away to a mere shadow of her former self in preparation for them. She attended them whenever held, and if she couldn't take in anything else, tried spelling and other elementary branches. It is a well known fact that she has taken examinations in every subject at least seventeen times. It is even said that the Regents have provided a large folio on purpose for recording the brilliant results of her examinations."

A race track thronged with people. Mid a cloud of dust I dimly see eight horses turning into the home stretch. They are closely bunched and it seems anybody's race. I see one of the drivers crowding his horse to the front He encourages the noble animal with words, rallies him with the lines, and at last applies the whip, and amid the plaudits of the throng lands his horse an easy winner. I need no friendly spirit to tell me that the man who could do this, and snatch victory from defeat, was educated in Wallkill Academy's classic halls, and I recognize this skillful driver as Dr. Edward P. Uptegrove, Secretary of the class of '95.

A woman, evidently a new woman, a brand new woman, an up-to-date woman, next appeared before my prophetic eye. Her mouth was moving and she waved her hands and arms, gesticulating as if to emphasize the words that she was uttering. But I heard nothing, for my ears had not been gifted as my eyes, and though I was blessed with second sight, the words of these wraiths of the future fell on soundless ears Again I appealed to my familiar spirit and he said: "That brand new woman is the wife of Judge Wimple Wam-Wam. She used, in Wallkill Academy days to be Leila Mills' After graduation she went in for woman's rights, made suffrage speeches and lectured on the emancipation of woman. The unemancipated judge happened along, heard her, surrendered at discretion and wooed and won her. She don't make suffrage speeches now, but devotes herself to delivering private lectures to His Honor, Judge Wimple Wam-Wam."

There suddenly rose up before me a woman, pencil and note book in hand, who said: "I represent the New York Jupiter and desire to know your opinion on the sub-lunar theory of the electrical evolution of the canals on the planet Mars." I answered that I had no opinions on the subject and she at once proceeded to write out two columns of arrant nonsense, which she credited me with having uttered. I asked: "Who is this freak?" And the awe struck spirit whispered, "Laura Clark, Nellie Blye II. While preparing her graduating essay she herself acquired the newspaper habit and you see the result."

A huge building bearing the sign "hats" in large letters rises before my eyes. A woman, young and fair to look upon, stands gazing with enraptured eyes upon the sign. She takes from her pocket a scroll and begins to read a "toothless satire" on her dentist lover. I ask my familiar spirit what means this combination of hats and dentistry, and he answers: "The woman is Ina Mills, but why she takes so kindly to hats and denistry, I'm jiggered if I know."

A tennis court appears before me, on which a tournament is in progress. Game after game, set after set, singles and doubles are played, and in all of them one young woman is victorious. At the conclusion of the tourney the victor is brought forward, crowned with a laurel chaplet, bedecked and bedizened with medals, badges, trophies and the blue ribbion of victory. I ask my familiar spirit: "Who is this tennis sharp, this prodigy, this dabster with ball and racket?" And the spirit answers: "Anna Woodward, tennis champion of the United States and of New Jersey."

The nets vanish in thin air and the courts spread out into a spacious field. Twenty-two blooming and bloomered women engage in mad and seemingly senseless struggles for the possession of an apparently worthless sphere. Amazed and aghast I watched these frantic women as they struggled up and down and all about the field. A shout of triumph rises and the women spent, torn and battered retire to their respective sides. A rush is made and one of the women, who has borne the heat and brunt of the fray, is carried from the field on the shoulders of admiring friends and sympathisers. Seeing a look of wonder in my eyes the spirit says: "Football; that woman borne in triump from the field is the most famous football player of the world. After graduating from Wallkill Academy in the class of '95 she went in for poetry, but abandoned it for the more congenial field of college athletics, in which she has won such fame that the name of Capt. Louise Hartwell is a household world in every land where football is known and honored."

It was a dream and yet not all a dream.

The Prophecy on the Prophitess by Miss Anna S. Woodward was next in order.

ADDRESS TO UNDERGRADUATES.

Mr. Edward P. Uptegrove had the pleasant duty of speaking words of wisdom to those who are to follow in the footsteps of the class of '95. He spoke as follows:

You have all listened to the records of the class of '95, who will so soon leave "Old Wallkill" and make the position of seniors vacant to be filled by the class of '96. In the coming year you will experience the struggles and hard study of school life, but, nevertheless, the pleasures of the position you will occupy will make it the happiest year of your school life.

You can profit by the examples of industry and perseverance of the class gone before you, and we hope you will remember with pleasure the pleasant associations intimately connected with the class of '95

And now, fellow students of the class of '96, accept the best wishes of the '95's for a happy and prosperous senior year, a pleasant graduation and a noble and successful life.

VALEDICTORY.

Miss Ina L. Mills then delivered the valedictory address as follows:

With the exercises of to-day our connection with Wallkill Academy ceases and we part with mingled feelings of pleasure and sorrow pleasure that we have attained the end for which we set out and sorrow that the ties that bind us as a class are soon to be severed. When we recall the days and years we have spent, how brief our academic career seems to us.

Although our paths may not always have been strewn with roses, yet we can look back over these years as years of pleasantness and will always cherish tender memories of this honored building and the incidents and associations connected with it.

The friends and companions we have found while together here are especially dear to many of us, and we will recall these scenes and faces as one of the bright spots in our lives.

The years which we have given to study have necessarily been years of confinement, but now we are at large. We will no longer be obliged to answer the summons of this old academy bell, or be haunted by the dread of a poor recitation. We are free to step over the threshold into the great wide world, and take up the life work which each one has marked out for himself.

And now as we, the Class of '95, have met here for the last time; we not only bid farewell to classmates and teachers but we must also give a parting look to these hallowed walls which have echoed to our footsteps and voices during the years gone by.

May blessings the richest and purest lie in your path in all coming time, and may the education which we have commenced here have its result in a world of brighter knowledge.

The exercises concluded with the singing of the class song, the words and music of which were composed by Miss Nelley Shafer, a member of the class.

The Tramp Murder at Highland Falls.

The Grand Jury considered, yesterday, the tramp murder at Highland Falls and heard the evidence of Curran, the "Sparrow's" companion. It is believed an indictment was found. A story is current that the "Pug" was killed because having drawn the lot he had not the nerve to carrp out an agreement to "do up" and rob the bartender of Engelskircher's saloon.
